LRA Radiologist Becomes Newest Partner

Lumberton, September 12, 2007: In July of 1971 the doors opened up at Lumberton Radiological Associates, and thirty-six years later LRA has become the most comprehensive outpatient-imaging center in Robeson County and this month will welcome Dr. Andrew Simays as its newest partner.

"I have thoroughly enjoyed my first year in Lumberton working with the staff at both LRA and SRMC and look forward to many more years of helping our patients and the community." Says Dr. Simays. "I am proud to be asked to join this wonderful practice."

Simays, who began working at LRA in September of 2006, will join current partners; Ben Gasque, James Parker, and Robert Cherichella along with two other radiologists George Provosty and Mack McClain.

According to CEO Ben Gasque, Dr. Simays has distinguished himself as a "valuable member of the LRA imaging team. We are delighted that he has accepted our invitation to partnership. We are also most pleased that he and his wife Polly have chosen to make Lumberton their home."

Board Certified by The American Board of Radiology, Simays is a retired Naval Commander and served as a Diagnostic Radiologist during Operation Iraqi Freedom. He earned his medical degree from Louisiana State University and completed his residency in radiology at the Naval Medical Center in San Diego, California.
